Democratic Union MASS MEETING AT THE COURT HOUSE SATURDAY Evening, Oct. 8th

Hon. Jos. E. Egly, and others, will speak in English, at one side of Court House, and Dr. Finn and A. V. Hofer, Esq., will address the people in German, on the opposite side.

The People will meet between 6 and 7 o'clock at Walker's Hall, in Oregon, and march in procession to the Court House. Let there be a grand rally! Turn out!

On account of a change in the appointments of several speakers, and of the place of meeting on Saturday evening, the meeting called at the Court House for Thursday will be postponed to a future day.

Meeting in the 1st Ward.—To-morrow evening the Democracy will have a meeting at Storch's Store, on 1st st., in the 1st Ward. Dr. Egly will speak in German, and several gentlemen will address the people in English. Let the people turn out.

Meeting in St. Lawrence.—There will be a Democratic meeting at Adelman's, in Slidertown this evening, at half past six. Let the people turn out in force of numbers. Good speakers will be there to address them.

The best electioneering document of the campaign for the Democratic ticket, is the Journal of this morning. The old Deacon is evidently badly gelid, and has given up the issues.

It is stated that the crew of the steamship Great Eastern will consist of sixty able bodied seamen, ninety seamen riggers, two hundred engineers and firemen, steward's staff one hundred—making, with officers, about five hundred.

We had a pretty stiff frost in this meridian this morning. It is claimed that sweet potatoes in the ground, tomatoes, beans, etc., have been "deteriorated" by the cold snap. Those who have had doubts about frost heretofore will have to knock under to the well defined one of this morning.

In answer to numerous enquiries about "when will the ladies ride?" we answer that it is set down in the programme for to-morrow afternoon. We learn that several ladies will compete for the prize to be awarded to the most accomplished equestrienne.

The printer—(by leaving out our item)—presented us yesterday from referring to the card of Douglas & Co., Dry Goods Merchants in the New Phillips Building, Main st., by two 2d and 3d streets. These gentlemen for some 18 months past noted as first class business men, have now one of the largest and finest business houses in the West, and have it filled "above and below" with every fabric known in the Dry Goods trade; and they are determined to more nearly than ever deserve the patronage of the people. Douglas & Co. have but just moved into their new palace; but they will have a regular, grand opening in a day or two. Look out for it.

Fish.—Wm. J. Finley, long and favorably known as the packet Agent of Doyle & Dickey, has been engaged in forwarding an immense number of fresh fish to various points, the last few years. Since the D. & M. road has opened, he has commenced sending his fish in this direction, and we can assure those who wish a supply, that Mr. Finley is a prompt business man, who always attends strictly to orders.

Business Directory.—Mr. G. W. Hayes intends getting out a Business Directory for this City and Valley, and his Agent, J. I. Mitchell, will call upon our business men here to patronize the work. He will give all necessary information about it.

Several splendid horses with cards upon their bridles were upon the streets this morning. The display upon the ground is first class to-day.

As no spirituous liquors are allowed to be sold on or near the Fair Grounds, ladies may visit the Fair without fear of being insulted.

Notice of 2d hand Buggies and Carriages at Phillips' old stand. Warren has 'em as good as new, and cheap as dirt.

That Pledge. We are authorized to state that the Democratic candidates are willing to take Deacon Comly's pledge, viz: to vote not to release David Clark or his associates from responsibility on his bond as Treasurer of M. C. If the opposition Republican candidates are required to take the same pledge with Gibson and Breslin attached. The only proviso they make is that the pledge be administered by some person having a character for truth and veracity in the community. That leaves you out, Deacon.

Remember the Fact. The Statesman says—Let it be remembered at the ballot box, that the Abolition party sacrificed Judge Swan, because he refused to violate his solemn oath and make a partisan declaration; and then, as if to show their utter contempt of public opinion, justice and right, nominated a southern slaveholder, who according to a solemn resolution of another Convention of that party, is worse than a murderer! These facts are so plain that the wayfarer may, though a fool, can see and understand them.

The assertion of the editor of the Journal, that he had hitherto declined to bring what he calls our "defalcation," before the public, from friendly feelings towards us, is one of the unaccountable falsehoods, that he has yet given currency to. He knows that he has been continually harping about this matter in every election campaign that has come off during the last four years. The idea that he can be influenced by friendly motives, when a personal or partisan end is to be subserved, is not only base, false, but ridiculous in the extreme. He is incapable of a single generous or magnanimous feeling towards a political opponent, and in our own case, we know that he has outraged every principle of manhood and friendship.

It is the general verdict of the good people of this community that the present course of Deacon Comly towards us is not only uncalled for, unjustifiable and indefensible, but has no precedent for depravity in the political history of the county, and would go to shame the veriest characterless blockhead who ever polluted this Valley with his pestiferous breath. We have been grieved by his indecent and besotted malice to use strong language when speaking of him; but our vocabulary will hardly furnish us epithets strong enough to reach the lower depth of his true portraiture. And while we regret the necessity for the course we have taken in this matter, we trust we may be excused—if not justified—by every man who has a soul in his body.

As the editors and proprietors of the Journal have now obtained from us all that can reasonably expect in the way of accommodations in money and otherwise, they are endeavoring to crush us out of existence. The baseness of their course towards us has not a parallel in this part of the State; we doubt if it had a parallel since the day that Judas sold his master for 30 pieces of silver. They should emulate his example, immediately after the receipt of the money.

How He Leaps.—A prominent Republican in this city says every issue of the Empire makes Deacon Comly, of the Journal, spring and leap as though a good switch was being keenly applied to his back. Good!—The old fellow will soon be able to perform feats that will put Blondin to blush. Wonder if the Deacon couldn't be induced to extend complimentary to his friends, in order that they might see him "act out"?

Life in the North.—A gentleman direct from the hunting and fishing grounds of the North reports that business is very brisk in that quarter. Conductor Martin, who is in camp right in the heart of the Big Woods, with an old chum from the Panama Isthmus Railroad, has had good luck this far. He has brought down three fine bucks and one doe, twenty one turkeys and a great many pheasants, squirrels, and two porcupines, &c. It was reported last evening that he had shot a bear, and had been attacked by three wolves, but his friends need not be alarmed for his safety, as he is always able to fight his way through.

When the train reached Ottawa at midnight, the young people of that town were ready to jump aboard the cars. They had been feasting on venison and oysters at Rowe's, and every lad and lassie were full of fun. They soon filled up the vacant seats in the car and came to their rival town Columbus Grove, where they feasted until the up train came along at three o'clock this morning. Their visit was unexpected at the Grove, but the young men of that town determined their visit should be returned; Adams was well represented and it was admitted that village could muster the largest number of young men, but the Grove has the most girls. Each young man is expected to take three girls to night and astonish and bewilder the young men of Ottawa with a glare of beauty. Railroads and oysters have made the times lively in that neck of woods.

Schiller's Birth Day.—The 10th of the coming month will be the 100th Anniversary of the birth of Germany's Great Poet, Schiller. We see by the foreign news that great preparations are being made throughout the German States to celebrate the day with becoming ceremonies. In this country the day will be very generally observed, and it is highly proper that it should be. The celebration should be general. Schiller was born in Germany, but his fame belongs to the world; and the world is proud of it. We are gratified to state that extensive preparations are being made in this city to celebrate the day in due style. On the evening of the 9th, there will be a grand concert, with orations and declamations, a ball, &c., and on the evening of the 10th, Schiller's great play of "William Tell" will be enacted, together with several other attractions. Let the event be kept in mind, and keep the ball rolling.

Old Preachers.—The Ohio Conference Record of the Methodist Episcopal Church shows when the preachers were admitted to Conference, the number of years traveled, &c. The list begins thus: Years traveled.

Jacob Young 53
David Lewis 49
Joseph Carper 48
John Stewart 40
Zachariah Connell 41
J. M. Trimble 41
John Frazer 37
J. M. Jameson 38
J. W. Clarke 28

The redeemable debt of Kentucky is about $3,000,000. Forty-five slaves were baptized in Richmond Va., last Sunday.

M. C. Fair—First Day. The Fair opened yesterday under very favorable circumstances. The entries of stock, agricultural implements, fowls, produce, fruit, flowers, &c., was better than ever before on the festival. A constant and steady addition was made to the exhibition up to a late hour last evening.

Floral Hall presents a very beautiful appearance. It is well supplied with every thing in this section which can please the eye and cheer the heart. The Mechanical Department is well filled with specimens of the handiwork of our artists. We notice a large case of saddles, harness, &c., from the shop of Crew & Warford, of this city, which attracted universal admiration. Many other articles of note are to be seen there, but we have not time to day to enumerate them. The horse stalls are neatly all filled with a good style of animals—the best show ever made here. The cattle pens make a fine show; they are the best stock we have seen on exhibition here, and we are interested to see stock raisers taking so lively an interest in the display. The hog and sheep pens exhibit a good showing for the farmers. We have cause- Nick Obermer is busily engaged in supplying the wants of the people with the substantial and luxuries of life. The Board is doing every thing in its power for the comfort, pleasure and satisfaction of the people. There is no disorder permitted upon the grounds, and drinking booths and gambling fixtures are banished the neighborhood.

The following were the awards yesterday: CLASS No. 2—FLOW TEAMS. In this class there were thirteen entries. The exhibition was a fine one. The premiums were awarded as follows: THREE HORSE TEAMS. 1st premium, Wm. Bradford Jr. 2d do John P. Muma. TWO HORSE TEAMS. 1st premium, J. C. Hayes. 2d do John P. Muma.

CLASS 3—FLOW MEN AND BOYS. There were twenty-four entries in this class, and the competition was very lively.—The following were the successful competitors. THREE HORSE TEAMS. 1st premium, Aaron Baker. 2d do Abraham Hoiser. TWO HORSE TEAMS. 1st premium, Aaron Hoiser. 2d do Isaac C. Hayes.

BEST PLOUGH BOY UNDER FIFTEEN YEARS OF AGE—THREE HORSE TEAM. 1st premium, Wm. Bradford, Jr. TWO HORSE TEAM. 1st premium, James A. Bradford. 2d premium, John P. Muma.

BEST STRAIGHT FURROW—ONE HORSE. Premium awarded to John Bergen. HORSES.—THROUGH-GOING. 1st premium, J. Clinton Wilson. 2d premium, Col. J. Patterson.

PAST RACKING HORSES. 1st premium awarded to Bay Gelding entered by James Stansel; time 3:09. The Dan Gelding entered by J. C. Shaffer, made his time in 3:22.

This morning—Second Day—the exhibition opened with a fine display of cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry, manufactured articles, agricultural, dairy and other products, fully showing the capacities of the county. We have not been able to get the result of the showing in time for our paper.

This afternoon will be brought out the horses for general purposes, match horses, jacks, jennets, and mules, and sweepstakes on horses. Other attractions will also be brought out, and all tastes will doubtless be gratified. Floral Hall, Mechanics' Hall, and other notable places will serve to make up a pleasing variety.

HITCHING HORSES AT THE FAIR.—Those who purchase Family tickets will not be charged for the privileges of hitching their horses or teams in the Grove on the Fair Grounds. Those who purchase single tickets only, will, as heretofore announced, be charged a trifle for the privilege. A word here in reference to this hitching business: The Society having been involved considerably in the purchase of the Fair Grounds, and the addition recently made, the friends of the institution recommended that the Board should arrange matters so that people could more generally and fully contribute to the payment of the indebtedness. Among other things it was suggested that secure hitching places be made throughout the Grove, and that a small fee—insignificant to each individual, but valuable to the Society in the aggregate—be charged for the use of them by those who desired to have their horses carefully kept during their attendance on the Grounds. It was claimed that when the people generally understood the object of this, they would cheerfully contribute a pittance for so praise-worthy an object; indeed, it was supposed that every one who became so interested in the matter, that they would be glad of the privilege of contributing, in that way, a trifle towards clearing up the indebtedness of the Society. It seems that these gentlemen were mistaken; that their motives have been misconstrued; that the trifling tax was considered by some an imposition! We assure such persons that the motive for this plan was pure; that the object was most praiseworthy, and we regret that the people should not have cheerfully seconded it. We feel sure that if all understood the purpose of making the charge for hitching, they would yet acquiesce in it. The Society needs every cent it can obtain for a fair equivalent.—We hope the people of old Montgomery will enter into the spirit of the institution, and liberally contribute—in a way they will not feel it to the firm establishment of the Montgomery County Fair Grounds. We will only add that these remarks are made upon our own "hook," but they are made with a desire to subserve the general good.

LAND FOR BENEVOLENCE.—A little girl who had been to a grocery for a pound or two of lard yesterday evening, on her return home sat down on a step near the corner of Jefferson and 5th, opened her basket, and proceeded to grease her head with the lard and slick her hair in the most approved style! Having completed her toilet, she covered the basket, and proceeded on her way home, making the remark to a little girl, an acquaintance who wanted to stop and talk with her— "Oh, I darren't stop another minute! Noth- sent me for lard to make biscuits for supper, and she'll lam me if I don't hurry!"

Dr. DeWeser, the gallant Zouave who distinguished himself in the capture of the African and person of Miss Blount, of Mobile, some time ago, is again "before the people," as a delinquent in a duel which he had appointed to fight with the pugilist, Mr. W. Mulligan, at New York. Mr. Mulligan came to town, which the Zouave didn't.

The Journal of this morning—in the full exercise of the spirit of manlyhood which has characterized its recent course towards us—presents its readers with garbled extracts from the "answer" of David Clark and his associates to the suit now pending against them in the Court of this County. If the Journal Editor had been disposed to deal fairly and honorably with us, he would have given this "answer" in full. As it is, no one can fail to see that his sole and only object is to mislead and deceive. In reply to the false and malicious position assumed by the editor of the Journal, in the article referred to, we have only to repeat what we have said before, that we have the fullest confidence that we shall be able to show, beyond all question, that the alleged claim against us cannot be supported by any reliable testimony, and that the result of the investigation will prove that the balance claimed will be very small, if, indeed, there is any such balance at all.

But there is one fact, in this connection, to which we desire to call public attention. The Dayton Journal is not the tribunal by which our case is to be decided. The case is to be legally constituted Court of Justice—for months and years past, our own and our securities have been ready for trial, and it is no fault of ours that the case has not been decided long ago.—The attempt of the Journal, therefore, to prejudice the case, by exciting public prejudice against us, can only be looked upon by all honest and honorable men as a mean and dastardly attempt to forestall the action of the Court. In this he will not succeed. We are well persuaded, that there is too much honesty, virtue and integrity among the people of this community to allow the lying attacks of the editor of that paper to influence their judgment in a matter where not only the property, but the individual character and integrity of a citizen is involved.

The cowardly attacks made upon us personally, by the editor of the Journal, we regard as of the most trifling importance. The assertions of a man who has been branded by a Court of Justice as an infamous libeller and calumniator, give us no uneasiness whatever.—His reputation in this respect is fully and legally established—an infamous reputation it is true—but yet one that is indelibly stamped upon the public records of our county, and which must remain there for the inspection and the scorn of coming generations.

DISCUSSION AT JOHNVILLE.—The two meetings at Johnville last night were merged, and a decidedly entertaining discussion is said to have taken place. Our boys gave the opposition all the advantages they asked, but the Democrats of Jackson and Perry say that for all they had "the deal," they didn't take a "trick." Clay opened; Gunckley followed; then Tom. Thresher spoke, and Craighed closed; each speaker being limited to forty minutes. The discussion was conducted in a gentlemanly manner, and all parties concerned appear to have been highly pleased. Democrats and Republicans concede the entire ability of our candidates to "fill the bill," and Sam. Craighed says if Tom should be elected, he pities the poor devil who should fall into his clutches by rendering himself amenable to the strong arm of the law. By the way, where is Nead?—the people say they want to see him and hear him speak. Clay is making friends daily; his strong, common-sense and straightforward course in the canvass, convinces his friends that we shall have in him an able representative, who will take more interest in the affairs of the State—giving his attention especially thereto—than in the passage or rejection of humbug resolutions, instructing our Senators and Representatives how to vote on the nigger issue. Go in boys, and keep the ball rolling, till next Tuesday evening.

The Gambiers. The Washington States, the most spirited, fearless and interesting papers in the Federal City, has opened its batteries upon the innumerable Gambling Halls there with tremendous effect. It cannot do a better work, though it requires the moral courage of a hero to engage in a combat of this character out of that beautiful city or into the Patomac. These abodes of death and crime and become habitual gamblers. We may say, then, Capt. Breg of the States, play away with your entire battery. Give them the grape until the whole sin-defiled crew, who keep those flesh houses, are driven either out of that beautiful city or into the Patomac.—Plain Dealer.

The above, with several grains of allowance, may be taken as a pretty fair state- ment of the condition of things at the seat of General Government. It will not be credited, however, that "men of all classes in Church and State" are engaged in G- mbling at Washington. It is bad enough, but we doubt if such a wholesale charge will have the effect of assisting in the work of reformation. The people will not, we fear, credit enough of the evil complained of when a statement is made in regard to its extent which no one can believe.

AN AFFAIR OF "HONOR."—At Washington, on Thursday last, intelligence was received that a hostile meeting was contemplated between S. B. Paul, Esq., editor of the Petersburg (Va.) Press, and Dol. T. B. Goode, independent candidate for Congress in the Petersburg District. Officers were dispatched to await their arrival, and Mr. Paul was arrested at Willard's Hotel by Officers Cimball, Wise and Allen, of the independent police. He was held in a bond of $5,000 not to shoot.

NEW JERSEY.—At an immense Democratic mass meeting, held at Jersey City, on Thursday last, General Joel Parker, a prominent and influential Democrat of that State, thus defines the position of his party upon the slavery issue: I shall only briefly allude to the slavery question. The Republicans say that Congress must legislate upon the subject for the Territories. The Democrats say leave it to the people of the Territories to decide for themselves. And, gentlemen, that is right. In the first place it is policy, because that is the rock upon which our ship of State will split if it ever splits at all. But give Congress the power to decide it, and the country is agitated at every election. Also right, as a question of principle, because self government is right—it is Democracy. It is, moreover, friendly to the spirit of our free institutions, and calculate to promote the best interests of our common country. [Cheers.]

Mr. Cuppy is particularly severe upon slaveholders. He don't like 'em; thinks they deserve hanging; thinks no honorable man will hold slaves! He probably forgot that his father was a slaveholder for over 30 years before he removed from Virginia to this State, Mr. Cuppy, senior, had the reputation, during a long life, of being a good and honorable man.

"Honorable Grantley Berkeley," the "mighty hunter" from England, who has so much trouble with his dogs on our railroad cars, has lately been in Kansas City, busily engaged making preparations for his proposed hunt for buffalo, elk and antelope, upon our great western plains. On the 23d of September he had his arrangements nearly perfected, and was about going to camp. He has secured the services of Mr. John Cantrell, who will go out in the capacity of general superintendent of the expedition. Nine men are employed, and his travelling outfit consists of four horses and one pony, four saddle animals, six mules, one provision wagon, a private carriage, and a wagon for his fire dogs. The party will take the Santa Fe road to Walnut Creek, near the ranch of Mr. George Cascoch, where they will hear away to the plains, hunting as far north as the Platte, and then home by the Kaw Valley. The hunt will last probably about two months. They are well supplied with fire arms, of both English and American make.

KOSUTH'S PLANS.—A correspondent of the London Star, writing from Paris, says: Kosuth was in Paris Sept. 12, and all the journalists of every color and degree paid him a visit, in the hope of learning what his intentions, aims and views really are— he cannot as yet be known, whether those are in favor of immediate action, or whether they incline toward taking time to consider whether he means to replace the sudden and decisive movements which characterized his mode of warfare before it was submitted to the rules laid down by Louis Napoleon, or whether he means to wait until he is favored by degrees yield the freedom which, according to Austrian rule, it would not be prudent to grant all at once. The account to be given by Kosuth of the principal open which he has been acting, has been waited for with the greatest patience, and it has been agreed that no judgment is to be formed of the conduct pursued by Kosuth, as it appears upon the surface; and that all verdict is to be suspended until the leader himself has submitted it with his own appreciation to the fiat of their opinion.

REMARKABLE SUICIDE.—A boy named John Durk hanged himself in St. Louis on Friday, it is supposed because he was not allowed to serve at mass. It appears that after the boys had dressed in the room adjoining the chapel, for the purpose of serving at mass, it was found that he would not be required. The others repaired to the chapel, and left him there. When they returned, to their horror they found him hanging. He had, in the int- rim, hanged himself by means of a rope fastened to a step-ladder.

"Peter, Peter, is one a toad!" said a little dorker to his brother one day, as they were digging over a heap of manure. "What is he, Joe?" "Why, right dar. Don't you see'm?" "No; hit him wid de hoe!" Joe hit the toad a crack, which brought Peter to the ground. "Oh you fool, Joe! Dat was my to! I seed it all de time!"

Remember the Democratic meeting at Adelman's, in Slidertown this evening.

MARRIED. On the morning of the 6th inst., by Rev. D. Winters, at his residence, Mr. William Brady to Miss Mary Gehhart, both of Van Buren Township.

A New Move. The undersigned desire to make grateful acknowledgements to the numerous individuals who have favored us with their patronage and encouragement in our endeavors to build up a Reformatory Dry Goods Establishment, which we hope will be creditable to the city, as well as to ourselves, and useful to the community as a medium through which a class of goods are supplied that are compelled to have, and all prefer to have, where they can have confidence that no deceptive representations will be made, and no exorbitant prices demanded. We have endeavored to give such a character to our business, and though but a little more than a year and half since our commencement in Dayton, our efforts have already been rewarded by a patronage so great, as to require a much larger store to meet the demands of our numerous customers.

In order to carry out the original designs, and to serve acceptably, all those who call on us, we have taken the LABOR NEW STORE ROOM, No. 76, MAIN STREET, which has been recently fitted up for us as a very great expense, which renders it a very handsome and attractive place for business; and by our own exertions to serve and please all who favor us, we expect to make it a place of general resort, and we will guarantee that no pains will be spared on our part, to see that every person who enters our establishment, will be dealt with in an honorable, upright and gentlemanly manner.
